The cat and the fox

Once upon a time there lived a cat and a fox. They were good friends. One day the cat asked the fox how many ways you have to escape from your enemy. The fox replied I have many ways and how many ways you have. The cat said I have only one way. Suddenly a pack of forest dogs came towards them. The cat climbed the tree.

The fox is running everywhere for searching a place to hide. Quickly the dogs caught

The dog caught the fox. The cat told only one way is better than many ways.

Moral: One way is better than many ways.

Thankyou!
